HEARD NAMED FOR SUPREME COURT ROBES

Courtesy of Judge Harry Edwards of Dixon Nominated Him

Judge Oscar E. Heard of Freeport, senior judge of this judicial circuit, was nominated Saturday at Rockford as the Republican candidate for Supreme Court Justice from the Sixth Judicial district. The convention was a highly dramatic affair and was practically deadlocked for thirty ballots, Judge Heard being nominated on the 31st.

Judge Harry Edwards of Dixon did not allow his name to be brought before the convention at any time. Kendall county started voting for Judge Edwards and the Dixon jurist promptly requested the withdrawal of his name by that county, as he had promised his support to Judge Heard, Lee county, with the other four counties in this judicial circuit, voted for Heard on every ballot. As the balloting dragged on without appreciable change in the standing of the candidates it appeared to many of the delegates that a re-alignment would be necessary for a decision and a general swing to Edwards was proposed and would have been carried through had Judge Edwards accepted the offer. Edwards' firm stand for Judge Heard finally resulted in victory for the Freeport jurist.

Shurtleff Real Contender.

Judge Shurtleff of Marengo was the most serious contender against Judge Heard throughout the balloting, with the counties of McHenry, Boone, Winnebago and DeKalb standing with Shurtleff through most of the fight. At times Shurtleff had six votes and was close to nomination, with Kane and Kendall counties voting with him. Judge Heard also reached the mark of six votes several times, when Kendall county swung over to him on three or four of the ballots. Most of the afternoon, however, the vote stood five to five or four to five, with the counties of Kane, Kendall, DeKalb and Whiteside voting for favorite sons in the persons of Judges Newhall, Fulton and Sheldon.

On many ballots Shurtleff received six votes from his end of the district while Heard received five, and only Whiteside county, voting continuously for Judge Carl Sheldon of Sterling, deadlocked the convention.

DeKalb Came Over.

On the final ballot, after a recess of fifteen minutes when there was much conferring and skinning about, DeKalb county broke over to Heard, winning the first time and then there was a scramble to climb on the band wagon, all the counties in the district excepting Winnebago, Boone and McHenry voting for Judge Heard, giving him nine votes to Shurtleff's three.

Three recesses were taken during the afternoon, after the tenth, twentieth and thirtieth ballots. The convention was held in the court room of the Winnebago county court house at Rockford, and was presided over by Harry Daniels of Elgin, Chairman, and Harry C. Warner of Dixon, Secretary. Many political leaders from all over the district were present.

To Elect New Judge.

The elevation of Judge Heard to the Supreme bench will leave a vacancy in this judicial circuit and already the names of two men are mentioned for the honor. Judge H. L. Heer of Galena is a candidate to succeed Judge Heard and the name of Charles Stewart is also mentioned. It is believed that the judicial election will not be held until this fall and will coincide with the general election.

Will Be Able Jurist.

The selection of Judge Heard for this high office is considered to be highly satisfactory in the west end of the district, not only because it keeps the office in the home district, but due to the unquestionable ability and fitness of the nominee for his work on the high court.

Among those in attendance from Dixon were Judge Edwards, County Chairman Harry Warner, Attorney E. H. Brewster, Judge Watts, Attorney M. J. Gannon, State's Attorney Mark Keller, Hughes Brewster and G. B. Shaw. Political leaders from other counties included Judge E. D. Ramsey, Attorney Sam McAlmont and Attorney Harry Ludens of Whiteside; Judge John K. Newhall, Aurora; Former Judge Franklin J. Stransky, Savanna; Judge William J. Emerson, Oregon; Judge William Fulton, DeKalb; Judge Heer, Jo Daviess; Judge Sheldon, Whiteside; Senator John D. Turnbaugh, Mt. Carroll; Senator Wright DeKalb; George Voss, secretary of the Kendall county committee; George Paxson, Plano; M. H. Walsh, Harvard; E. D. Patrick, Marquette; Dr. A. M. Shelton, director of the state department of education, Springfield and James Crowley, Freeport.

DeKalb to Get Appointment.

The election of Judge Heard, which will take place on June 2, there being no opposition, will leave a vacancy on

MIRAGE CAUSED MARTIN TO LOSE COURSE ON TRIP

Explains How Accident Befell Him in Alaska, Wrecking Plane.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Bellingham, Wash., May 26.—A mirage sent Major F. L. Martin, former commander of the United States army around-the-world flight, off his course and was directly responsible for the wrecking of his plane against a mountain near Port Moller, April 30, Major Martin told interviewers here yesterday when he arrived from Alaska. He was accompanied by his mechanic Sergeant A. L. Harvey.

Major Martin was reunited with his family. While Mrs. Martin embraced her husband, their son, Bobby, 8, tackled his leg in affectionate greeting.

Major Martin explained that he was drawn away from the Pacific by the mirage when his plane left Chignik. He was taken off his course in a northwesterly direction.

Were Very Near Death.

"The weather was foggy and the clouds were low," Major Martin said. "I changed my course heading south, but suddenly hit the side of the mountain. Had we hit ten feet lower we would have struck an abrupt cliff and would probably both been killed, but as it was we crashed on a gradual slope and the plane slid up about 100 feet, tearing it to pieces."

Major Martin broke a small bone in his nose in the crash but Sergeant Harvey was uninjured.

Major Martin will leave Seattle tomorrow for Washington.

Two messages from General M. M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, were handed Major Martin at Bellingham. The first, dated May 12, directed him and Sergeant Harvey to report at once at Washington, D. C. The other telegram, of a later date, cancelled the order sending Harvey to Washington, and assigned him to Chanute Fields, Ill. This was interpreted by Major Martin as meaning that the plan to send him to Europe has been abandoned.

POLICE NO NEARER SOLUTION OF DEATH OF ROBERT FRANKS

Wreath Sent to Funeral May Lead to Apprehension of a Suspect.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, May 26.—The State's Attorney, his assistants and police worked all night on clues as to the possible kidnaper and murderer of Robert Franks, son of Jacob Franks, retired wealthy pawnbroker and manufacturer, but today appeared no nearer a solution of the mystery than when the lad's nude body was found Thursday.

The body of the lad was laid to rest yesterday, attended by classmates at the private school he was leaving when last seen alive Wednesday.

Early today three men riding in an automobile answering the description of a machine said to have loitered near the private school attended by young Franks several days before he disappeared, were seized at Summit, Ill., about 20 miles from here, and brought to Chicago for questioning.

Girl May Have Seen It

There was some effort to connect the disappearance of Gertrude Barker, 17, with the kidnapping of young Franks. The girl has been missing since Wednesday when she left an academy near the school attended by the murdered lad. Her usual course homeward would however have taken her past the corner at which the boy last was seen. Miss Barker's relatives fear that she might have been a witness of the Franks kidnapping and therefore taken along by the kidnapers.

A florist who sent a wreath bearing the name Johnson to the funeral of the kidnapping victim yesterday is positive he could identify the man who gave him the order. The letter demanding $10,000 ransom sent to Mr. Franks after his son was dead, was signed "George Johnson" the florist said. He was described by the police as of the type built up in theory by the police as the possible owner of a pair of spectacles found near the boy's body.

Question Three Men

Three men in a gray automobile of the make seen near the Harvard school, the private institution attended by young Franks, were seized by the police. They gave a good account of themselves but will be questioned again.

Three instructors at the school still are being questioned and a more intensive interrogation of the students at the school was being carried out today. The police were overlooking no possibility to obtain some clue from the instructors and students.

Frank E. Nagle, for several years one of the prosperous business men of Dixon, passed away at the Lincoln hospital in Rochelle Saturday evening about 9 o'clock, death resulting from heart trouble with which he had suffered for several weeks. Mr. Nagle was a native of Lee county, being born in Harmon, August 9, 1883. He was united in marriage to Mrs. Anna Buckingham on Dec. 16, 1916. For the past several years he was most successful in conducting a restaurant here, retiring from active life when he was stricken several weeks ago.

Beside his widow, he is survived by two step-children, Rachel and Earl; his aged father, Patrick Nagle, two sisters, Mrs. John Heller and Mrs. John Conditine of this city and three brothers, John, Charles and Thomas. Tax Reduction Bill is Up in the House

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 26.—The conference tax bill, already passed by the senate, was approved today by the house, 376 to 9.

Providing reduction of taxes for almost every general taxpayer, the measure now goes to President Coolidge.

It carries a 25 percent reduction on income taxes payable this year, permanent revision downward of the income rates, repeal or lowering of most of the miscellaneous and excise taxes and a 25 percent reduction on earned incomes of $10,000 and under.

Although some doubt exists as to President Coolidge's attitude, in view of treasury department opposition to the provision for limited publicity of tax returns and an increase in estate taxes, republican leaders in both the senate and house joined the solid democratic lineup in support of the measure.

The brief debate developed considerable opposition in the republican ranks to the proposal for even limited publicity in returns and several announced if the measure were vetoed they would vote to sustain the action.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 26.—The final conference bill was up for tax reduction approval today in the house. Prompt approval of the conference report, already adopted by the senate, was predicted, and the measure is expected to be in the hands of President Coolidge in a few days.

Doubt still exists as to President Coolidge's attitude. As passed originally by the house, the bill contained provisions advanced mostly by republicans. The senate wrote into the measure some amendments, including the income tax schedule proposed by Senator Simmons, democrat, North Carolina, on votes of the democratic-republican insurgent coalition. Expected for the income schedule most of the latter were modified or stricken out by the conferees but Secretary Mellon has voiced objection to the house provision accepted by the conferees for publication of the amounts paid by all taxpayers and increasing the estate tax rates.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW QUARTERS OF DIXON C. OF C.

Public Invited to Visit Fine New Office and Rest Rooms.

The new quarters of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce on Galena ave., which have but recently been occupied, will be formally opened at a mass meeting of the membership tomorrow evening at 7:30. The several departments of the Chamber have been completed, giving Dixon one of the most commodious quarters on the Lincoln Highway or in the northern section of the state.

The front of the building affords ample office room for the secretary, Harold Woodlief, and his corps of assistants. Next in the rear is a general rest room 28x24 in dimension and sufficient in size to house committee meetings. In the rear of this is the ladies' rest room, 10x12. Lavatories and wash rooms for men have been fitted up in the front of the basement, with those for women on the first floor.

The rest room is indeed a feature of the new quarters and one of which Dixon may well be proud. It is maintained by the Chamber of Commerce and the city of Dixon jointly. It is not only a room where one may sit down and rest, but is equipped with writing desks where stationery is furnished, and an ample supply of seasonable reading material. A matron will be placed in charge of this department to see that visitors are given every care and attention. The rest rooms will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 9 in the evening of each day except Saturday and Sunday when the closing hour will be 10:30. This accommodation will be available to the public all day Sunday and in fact every day in the year.

Small white iron beds for small children and couches for grown people are provided for the tired or sick tourist or any patron who may see fit to take advantage of these accommodations. A community nurse will have office space on the second floor, this position now being filled by Miss Ruth McGinnis.

GROSSMAN'S CASE IN HIGHEST COURT ON PLEA FOR BAIL

Important Legal Point Involved in Appeal of Contempt Case.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 26.—Phillip Grossman, the former Chicago saloonkeeper, now held in confinement for contempt of court upon order of Judge Carpenter and Wilkerson, despite a commutation by President Coolidge, today asked the supreme court to release him on bail pending an appeal.

Grossman was sentenced to prison by former Judge Landis for contempt of court on the charge that he had violated a prohibition padlock injunction. Before he was committed President Coolidge extended executive clemency. Recently the case was aired before the senate Daugherty committee. In ordering him re-arrested the two judges took the position that Grossman, having been sentenced for contempt of court, the President could not act without an encroachment on the constitutional independence of the judiciary.

Important Legal Point.

The legal point raised is of such importance that the Department of Justice has indicated it would assist with the proceedings.

Pointing out that he was committed to the Chicago House of Correction May 23 upon order of the two judges, Grossman, through his counsel, L. J. Behan and Robert A. Milroy, advised the supreme court in the motion filed today that the superintendent of the house of correction refused to release him when the commutation granted by President Coolidge was exhibited and evidence was produced that he had complied with its terms by the payment of a $1,000 fine and costs.

Contending that the warrant on which he was committed to the house of correction was void because issued without authority of law, the petition declared the three federal judges composing the district court for northern Illinois, Judges Carpenter, Wilkerson and Cliffe, are disqualified from hearing or passing upon an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

For this reason, counsel stated, there is no adequate legal remedy open to Grossman except through the granting of a writ of habeas corpus by the supreme court.

The court took the motion under advisement and probably will announce its decision next Monday.

PRESIDENTIAL APPROVAL IS GIVEN TO ACT

However, He Voice Disapproval of Exclusion Provision

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, May 26.—The immigration bill was signed today by President Coolidge.

Despite the provision making Japanese exclusion effective next July put into the measure over his opposition, the President decided, because of other considerations, to give it executive approval necessary to spread the legislation on the statute books. It was pointed out that it is as much as the present immigration law expires on June 30 a vote might have made it necessary to run through an emergency measure the closing hours of the session. Such a step, the President felt, would not be practicable in view of the tangled legislative situation and the certainty that any emergency provision would be beset by many attempts at amendment and possibly blocked altogether.

Prepares Statement.

As soon as he had affixed his signature to the bill, however, the President began preparation of a statement expressing his disapproval of the failure of congress to provide a longer delay in the effective date of Japanese exclusion.

Besides the Japanese exclusion feature the bill contains a number of provisions which were the basis of stultifying contests when the legislation first was under consideration in the senate and house. One question long in dispute was the method of terminating national quotas, which under the measure as finally passed, is reckoned at two percent on the basis of the 1890 census.

Note Settled Jap Clause.

This and all other disapproval over the bill's provisions have been subordinated to the Japanese exclusion clause ever since Ambassador Hanhara on April 11 sent a note to the state department suggesting the possibility of "grave consequences" be considered before an absolute legislative barrier was raised against the Japanese. The note was characterized in both houses as veiled threat, and both swiftly and by overwhelming majorities their desire for exclusion.

The house passed the bill 322 to 1, and the senate 62 to 6. Under house measure exclusion would have been effective July 1 of this year, the senate voted to make it effective immediately. While the legislation in conference the President pleaded directly to the conferees write in a postponement until May 1, 1926, so as to permit negotiation an agreement with Japan, but conference committee refused to accept his plan.

Ignored Suggestions.

Subsequently the conferees agreed to a postponement until May 1, 1925, but when their report was brought into the house it was voted down 191 to 171. A new conference was drafted making the effective date July 1, 1924 and it was adopted by the house 308 to 58 and the senate 69 to 9. In each case majority was far in excess of two-thirds that would be necessary for passage over a veto.

The President's signature was affixed to the bill after he had conferred with Secretary Hughes and had voted a week end to study of measure and the reports made up by the state and labor departments.

His Action.

The President's statement does not have approved the bill because of the necessity of considering "the as a whole, and the imperative of the country for legislation of general character."

In the exclusion provision alone, the President said he would have disapproved it without hesitation.

In signing this bill, which in main features I heartily approve, I regret that the impossibility of legislation in the light of existing law facts especially the Japanese.

"I gladly recognize that the enactment of this provision does not in any change in our sentiment of adoration and cordial friendship for Japanese people, a sentiment we have had and will continue to have abundant manifestation.

Exercises Prerogative.

"The bill rather expresses the termination of the congress to exercise its prerogative in defining by law the control of immigration instead of leaving it to international arrangements. It should be noted, the bill exempts from the exclusion provision, government officials, lists coming to this country as tourists or temporarily for business or pleasure, those in transit, seamen etc."

THE MAN WHO PAINTED CHRIST IN PRISON

BY KAIN O'DARE

His name was Leon, and he was sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for 10 years after a conviction of counterfeiting.

Leon, the artist, was an English subject and the head of a colony of empire dreamers in Canada. Of course the colony came under Canadian laws—but Leon was a dreamer, a dreamer of great things that would eventually set his people free and allow them the harvest of his great dream, whatever it was.

Financially the colony was weak. Leon came to the United States to raise money.

He found out that folks down here were building automobiles, homes and pushing baby carriages, and were producing instead of dreaming.

Leon's plea for his empire fell on deaf ears.

It is alleged he made several thousands of dollars worth of counterfeit money which was so good that banks counted it as genuine.

Of course, the Secret Service had to butt in and Leon went to jail for ten years.

Good counterfeiters are usually good artists. The officials at Leavenworth assigned Leon to decorate the Protestant and Catholic chapels.

Today, if you were to visit Leavenworth, you would behold a picture of Christ, done in oil above the altar in the Catholic chapel. The Savior is sitting in a cell in consultation with two prisoners in stripes.

People from all over the world have stood before that picture with bared heads, and with eyes glistening with emotion.

To the right of Christ the prisoner has only one arm. The man who posed for this picture was Ben Sterns, the famous one-armed train robber of Oklahoma. To the left of Christ the prisoner is hollow-cheated, eyes peering from deep sockets—it is those eyes that hold and grip the person below the picture; there is a light there like some dead spirit coming into flame.

The man who posed for this picture was also a prisoner who had spent years and years behind the grim walls of Leavenworth.

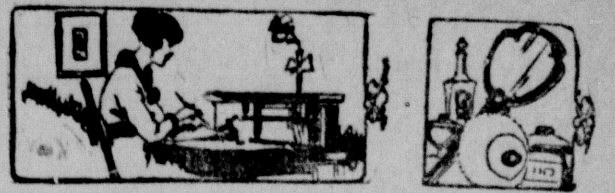

And then there is Christ himself! Of all the beautiful paintings that have been made of this wonderful character I do not believe there is any to surpass the one that Leon painted within prison walls. The man who posed for this picture was a Jew doing a long term in Leavenworth.

There came a Washington society woman to Leavenworth to look at the American Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary held their regular meeting Wednesday evening. The usual business was transacted during which time the late bulletins from Department headquarters were read, and these bulletins asked that all membership dues be paid in to the Unit no later than July 26th in order for members to be in good standing at state and national headquarters. "This is a new ruling and must be obeyed for the member to be in good standing."

Also, every member, who has not paid into the Unit their 10-cent assessment for the Child Welfare fund, must remit to the treasurer so it can be sent to the department treasurer during the month of May. Also, twelve members are asked to assist with the children on Memorial Day. A very satisfactory report was given of the benefit picture, which netted the Auxiliary a neat sum. A report of relief work was given and a report the visit to the Edward Hines, Jr., Greenhouse opening, May 12, a number of the members attending.

Twelve suit covers were made and sent in. Any member who has not returned the sewing kit or housewife, will confer a great favor on the committee by doing so.

At the next meeting, June 4th, the election of delegates for the annual convention, will be held, so all members please take notice. The convention will be held at Champaign and Urbana, Sept. 1, 2 and 3, 1924.

The president, with several members, will visit the south Central school, to invite the grade children to participate in memorial day exercises. The meeting adjourned until, June 4th, at 2:30.

Sprinkle with salt and pepper and a few drops of lemon juice. Put a slice of bacon over each cut side and broil under the flame. Broil bacon side first, then turn and broil skin side. It will take about three minutes for each side.

GAIN WEIGHT.

One-half cup stewed rhubarb, one cup cooked wheat cereal with 6 dates, 1 cup cream, 2 codfish balls, 2 waffles, 2 slices rye toast, 1 cup cream of spinach soup with 1 tablespoon whipped cream, 2 corn fritters with four tablespoons maple sirup, 4 spring onions, 2 tablespoons whole wheat croutons for soup, 2 slices rolled oats bread, 1-6 raisin pie, 1 cup cream of onion soup, 2 broiled lamb's kidneys with bacon, 3 new potatoes in 1/4 cup cream sauce, 1 stuffed tomato salad with 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 4 tablespoons jelly, prunes with 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 1 pint whole milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 dinner rolls.

the day, a lighter breakfast should be planned.

Mrs. Hart Would Redistrict the State

Cleveland, O., May 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Among the numbers of unusual women who will participate in the Republican national convention here the week of June 10 is one who undertook to conquer Democratic weather. In her state, Kentucky, the elements are said to conspire peculiarly at times with the topography of the eastern section, and to oppose their combined forces, is composed with the defiance of Ajax to the lightning and the attempt of Canute to command to tide.

She is Mrs. A. T. Hert of Louisville, Ky., a member of the national committee on arrangements for the convention. It was during the last gubernatorial campaign in Kentucky that Mrs. Hert opened her fight to redistrict the state in such a way "that the election may be determined by votes cast and not by the amount of rain that falls," as the Republicans put it. A number of new precincts have already been marked out, in response to her agitation.

Mrs. Hert represented that the previous precincts were sometimes divided by streams, with the polling places on one side of the stream, at the foot of a mountain. Most of the Republicans in Kentucky live in the mountains and it was contended that when elections followed heavy rains, many a man on his way to the polls either got stuck on the mountainside, or was unable to ford the swollen creek.

Mrs. Hert succeeded in having a number of new precincts formed in such a way that the polling places are accessible to the mountaineer even during Democratic weather.

Mrs. Martin J. Caples of Norfolk, Va., alternate at large, will be the special representative of Bascom Slempp, Mr. Coolidge's secretary. Mrs. Charles Sabin, daughter of Paul Morton, a member of Roosevelt's cabinet, will be a delegate-at-large from New York state. Mrs. Anna W. Valle of Denver, Colo., is an associate member of the national arrangement committee.

BLACK AND WHITE

Black and white striped satin, such as this, is so decorative in itself that even cut on the simplest lines it takes on an elaborate air. Here the stripes go round on the skirt and under the arms but go up and down on the sleeves and front. Six wide tucks at the hem, a few steel-colored buttons and a tasseled scarf are effectively used.

sonary oratorical contest work, will give a recital at Trinity church Tuesday evening, May 27, at 8 o'clock. In child and Negro impersonation Miss Webster is unsurpassed, and accompanied by Mrs. A. Kline of Dixon as soloist, a fine program is in waiting. Miss Webster is the reader in St. Paul's orchestra of Dixon.—Sterling Gazette.

Presbyterian Missionary Society Meeting

The Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society met with Mrs. Frank Edwards on Friday afternoon. Mrs. E. B. Raymond gave a short talk on "Lessons in the School of Prayer," and Miss Ruth Morris delighted everyone with two beautiful violin numbers, "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler, and "Oriental" by Cui.

Mrs. Herbert Greig, home on a furlough from the Cameroon country of Africa, gave a vivid and interesting description of their work there that will long linger in the hearts of her hearers. Her sincere interests in and loving service and loyalty to those in the dark country made a very distinct impression.

The quiet accounts of the hardships through which they daily pass, told in her peculiarly sweet earnest manner, with no complaint or annoyance, made the paltry excuses with which we evade our opportunities seem very trivial beside this golden haired woman who is "counting all things but loss for Christ" in her twelve years of service for the black people 12,000 miles from her homeland.

Mrs. Edwards served appetizing refreshments in the social hour that followed.

Palmyra Mutual Aid Society Met

The Palmyra Mutual Aid Society held a very enjoyable meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edward Mensch. Twenty-four members and one visitor were present. A delicious scramble dinner was served at noon. A business meeting was held in the afternoon and it was voted to hold their annual summer picnic Wednesday, June 11th, at Lowell Park. The families of the members are invited to enjoy the day with them. A letter from the missionary in Tennessee, to whom a barrel of clothing was recently sent, was read thanking those who so kindly responded to the opportunity to help those in need.

Following the business meeting a number of recitations were enjoyed given by Mary Frances Buhler, Mary Jane Eckert and Irene Mensch.

After the meeting adjourned all spent an enjoyable social hour.

A business meeting will be held in the basement of the Sugar Grove church Wednesday afternoon, May 28. All members are urged to be present.

TRUE BLUE CLASS TO MEET—

The True Blue Class of the Christian church, taught by Mrs. J. E. Reagan, will hold a regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Fellows, 723 Peoria avenue at 2:30 o'clock. A large attendance is desired. A social hour will follow the meeting, and Mrs. Jesse Martin will be the assistant hostess during the social hour following the meeting. All teachers of classes in the Sunday school, who would be in Mrs. Reagan's class, were they not teaching, are cordially invited to the meeting tomorrow afternoon at Mrs. Fellows' home.

WEST GROUP TO MEET THURSDAY—

The West Group of the Sunshine Class, St. Paul's Lutheran church, will meet Thursday evening of this week with Mrs. Mary Hill, 1616 Second street. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ella Hefley.

Sacred Cantata Was Beautifully Given

The sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words from the Cross," by the Zion Choir of Clinton, Iowa, was beautifully rendered to a large audience at the Immanuel Lutheran church in Dixon last evening, the church being packed. Everyone attending, felt it a privilege to listen to this wonderful choir.

There were fifty-one voices in the choir, and the soprano and baritone solos are especially worthy of mention and the beautiful and difficult accompaniment. When the choir sang together it sounded much like a pipe organ. The cantata is especially rich in devout expression.

The visiting choir members were astonished at the liberality of the offering taken for the evening which was presented them, it being large than ordinarily given them.

The Zion choir made the trip here by automobiles and they were met by the young people of Immanuel Lutheran church and accorded a fine reception. After the delightful music and beautiful rendering of this sacred cantata, a light luncheon was served the visitors, who expressed themselves as much pleased with their treatment here.

It will be noted that the "4 o'clock tea" as noted in the year book, will be held an hour earlier, at 3 o'clock.

$75,000 Fire in Elgin.

By Associated Press. Elgin, Ill., May 26.—Fire early this morning caused $75,000 damage and completely destroyed the Coliseum garage building here. The garage, a number of automobiles, a grocery store, meat market, and photographic store, all in the building, were reduced to ruins. An automobile gasoline tank explosion is thought to have started the fire. Four firemen were severely cut and burned and several spectators were slightly injured when an exploding gasoline tank hurled glass and flames into the street.

JAPAN AND THE PHILIPPINES.

The address of Thomas Rees, Springfield publisher, before the Inland Press association reported briefly by the Associated Press, suggests rather than mentions, a bid for continued Japanese friendship despite the exclusion act.

Japan needs room for an overcrowded and rapidly growing population. The United States has the Philippines. The Filipinos, or at least that portion of them that would like to rule the islands themselves, want the United States to withdraw and give them their own way. We paid Spain $20,000,000 for the islands, and for the more than a quarter of a century since then have been sending our money, our business men, our educators and our people, who represent civilization over there to uplift the Filipines. They now have a civilization that is barely in its swaddling clothes, and most of us believe it is our duty to nurse them until they are really able to walk. To keep them would be against the will of those whom we have really thus far uplifted. If we turn them loose, we believe they would soon fall under the domination of some other power, probably Japan. No doubt we could sell them to Japan at this moment. Would that be ethical? Would that be in accordance with the high ideals we have been cherishing in regard to them? Is it or is it not our duty to still farther educate and uplift them, even against the protest of those Filipinos who want to be the ruling class over there? Japan needs the islands as an outlet for its quickly growing population. If we turn them loose on their own responsibility, Japan can and probably would walk in and take them over whenever it wants to. If we sell them to Japan, reserving a naval base over there and stipulating that the islanders must not be exploited and tyrannized over, will we have betrayed our trust? Some of us will doubtless reply in the affirmative, some in the negative. Here is a nice problem for thought.

PAR.

Consols, Italian government securities, sold as low as 68 in 1919. Recently they went above par, 100, which is face value.

The reason? Italy still has her enormous war debt. But under Mussolini's wise financial leadership, she's economizing, paring expenses. That looks good for the future, so consols advanced.

The real danger and problem in Europe is government spending rather than debts already incurred. A government's credit is exactly like an individual's. And when a man—however heavily in debt from foolish spending—shows signs of coming to his senses, his standing rises.

LAWS.

More than 4000 new laws have been passed so far this year by the legislatures of ten states.

We have too many laws, too many lawyers. The nation has a feeble-minded hallucination that prompts it, as soon as a problem of any sort rises, to try to solve it by a new law. How many problems, tackled by creation of new statutes, would be solved sooner and better by leaving them to the natural laws such as cause and effect? Fetch an adding machine.

Another thing we need is a house-cleaning of statute books, weeding out the obsolete junk useful only as precedents for delay.

THEY GET WHAT THEY WANT.

A new kind of confidence game is worked in Boston. Joe went to the movies, sporting his $725 diamond ring. A pretty girl, about 16, sat next to him.

She admired the sparkler. My, she'd always wanted to see a diamond like that on her finger. Joe was obliging. Did he have the correct time? He did. What, so late in the afternoon? Would Joe mind holding her hat while she telephoned mama she'd be late for dinner? Sure.

The ease with which women wrap men around their fingers and make them jump through the hoop, is as pathetic as it is ancient. You recall the saying that it takes a mother 21 years to make a man of her son, and only 21 seconds for a pretty face to make a fool of him. And the older they are, the harder they fall.

It's all for the best—part of nature's cunning system of biology.

About 20 years ago, when women began flocking into business after generations of seclusion in the American home, business men began to sense the commercial possibilities of a pretty face and soft voice.

The telephone companies tried male operators early in the game. But customers were so rough with "Central" over the wire, and called at the office to stage a fight so often, that the companies began to hire girls.

Restaurant men know that waitresses bring more business than waiters, as a rule. Each pretty waitress attracts her own following.

It's the same in stores catering to men, all the way from clothing to tobacco.

Beauty is a commercial asset. They're even turning elevators over to fascinating young misses. Biology is getting on a business basis.

Governments are incredibly stupid in not using women as diplomats. Germany, for instance. She might get better terms at a reparations conference if she were represented by ravishing vamps instead of solemn statistical gents with heads like gourds.

Women have become a fixed institution as lobbyists around most legislative bodies. Why not try them internationally?

And their beauty wouldn't be the only advantage. Feminine intuition and practical psychology would help, not to mention their brain power. They'd take to the game like a duck to water. In former centuries women like Du Barry, powers behind the thrones, made whole nations their toys.

TRIFLES ARE TREMENDOUS—

When they determine the course of a life. When they are allowed to break up a friendship.

If they lead to a break with one's conscience.

If a man is striving for perfection.

If they are big enough to involve personal honor.

To a man who has a fine respect for the truth.

To one who is looking for faults in another.

NO. 13—MR. CROW TELLS HIS TROUBLES

"Good morning," he cawed in a hoarse voice.

Mister Crow opened the door of Mister Bags' little store in the woods and hopped in.

"Good morning," he cawed in a hoarse voice, but he looked more as though he meant, "Bad morning."

"Good morning," said Nancy and Nick and Mister Bags all together.

"How are you, Mister Crow?"

"Poorly," answered Mister Crow. "Poorly. Can't sleep—can't eat, can't do anything. It's a hard, cold world, so it is."

"Why, what's wrong Mister Crow?" asked Nancy. "You must have stuck the wrong foot out of bed first this morning."

"Oh, you can make jokes if you want to," said Mister Crow gloomily. "But I tell you it's a hard, cold world."

"And nothing they could say did one bit of good. All that Mister Crow would do was to sit in the middle of the floor and say it was a hard, cold world."

"Something must have happened to make the poor fellow look so dismal," said Mister Bags. "I'll have to find out what it is and cheer him up a bit."

"How's your rheumatism, Mister Crow?" he asked cheerfully. "Better, I hope."

"Yes, it's better," said Mister Crow gloomily.

"And how's your family?"

"All right!"

"Able to sit up and take a little nourishment?" said Mister Bags, laughing at his own joke.

Suddenly Mister Crow straightened up. "Nourishment!" he exclaimed. "Nourishment! Humph! You said something, Mister Bags. Yes, I suppose all of us could manage to eat a little nourishing food if we could get it."

"Why, Mister Crow!" cried Nancy. "Here's a whole store full of stuff to eat. You must be crazy to talk like that."

"Crazy! Well, maybe, I am and maybe I'm not, but just tell me. Do you keep corn sprouts? Now do you?"

"Certainly not," said Mister Bags. "But we keep dried corn and corn meal and canned corn and corned beef and corn sirup and corn-cob pipes and pop corn."

"Crows don't like any of that stuff," sniffed Mister Crow. "They like corn that's been planted and started to sprout! Um yum, that's what we like. That's real nourishment for you, so it is."

"But that isn't honest," said Nick. "The farmers don't allow you to have any of the corn they plant. If you eat it when it's little, there won't be any corn stalks to grow big and have roasting ears on them."

"Too long to wait," growled Mister Crow. "Too long to wait. I just dropped in to find out if you should happen to know when Farmer Jones bought his seed corn to plant. He has his scarecrow all fixed up 'n' everything, so it must be soon."

"Why, what do you know about scarecrows?" asked Mister Bags sharply.

"Ha! I'm a wise old bird and I know," croaked the crow. "You can't fool me. I know that those old sticks they carry 'trent' guns at all. I'm not afraid of them."

lovely gifts. The traveling bag came this morning, and I shall be very much pleased, also with the silver brocade evening gown.

You see I am not in mourning, and you, of course, doubtless know that I and I were more or less estranged for many months before his death. I would feel myself a great hypocrite if I made a show of deep grief.

I don't want to give you the idea, however, that I am so heartless as not to grieve at all for Sam. No woman can live with a man some years and go through the hardships with him that I did without having a bond of tenderness toward him which when severed is irrevocably as death must sever it will bring a loneliness and a feeling of being cast adrift without any port in sight.

However, I do not mind telling you, my dear Mrs. Hamilton, that one of my little philosophies of life is that yesterday is absolutely dead to me. I put it behind me as far as I can, if the memory of it brings sorrow; and I smile and feel that whatever comes fate cannot take away from me the happiness which came when yesterday brought joy.

There I go, Mrs. Hamilton! I sometimes think I am the most garrulous letter writer in the world. Things I cannot possibly tell any one, I can write. But oh, you and Mr. Hamilton have been so kind to me, that I know you must have some feeling of friendship for me in your hearts.

I have had so little friendship in my life that I cling to every modicum that is offered me. I often think that that was the trouble between Sam and me. We were not friends. I have always held up to my acquaintances you and Mr. Hamilton as being true friends when I wished to prove that friendship was even more necessary to marriage than love.

I like very much to work for your daughter's husband, Mr. Prescott. You know, my dear Mrs. Hamilton, I have to have something besides the mere routine of business to interest me, and his enthusiasm and somewhat erratic way of getting that enthusiasm out of his system is most amusing at times. Whatever he may do to Leslie you may be sure he will never bore her.

I haven't seen Leslie as much as I would like since I have been here. Perhaps I am to blame for this, because I have a curious sort of an idea that a business woman must not attempt any social life. Leslie, dear girl, has often asked me to meet some of her friends, but to me that has been impossible. She is one of the sweetest women I have ever known, however, and I hope she knows how I feel toward her.

This letter has stretched itself out to an unconscionable length, but I was so touched with your wonderful gifts that I felt I must unburden my heart to you a little. In closing this letter may I say:

With much love,
SALLY ATHERTON,

There is considerable complaint about the song birds being killed in this town. HEALTHGRAMS

Foot and mouth disease will attack humans, especially children, but this malady is not very fatal among humans or cattle. While the germ that caused hoof and mouth disease may readily be transmitted in milk, pasteurization will positively destroy these germs, according to the U. S. Public Health Service.

Cresote oil and mosquitoes will not mix. The odor of the oil is sufficient to prevent the presence of mosquitoes. Mosquitoes will not breed in water that has been painted with cresote oil. If mosquitoes bother you try cresote oil in some practical manner.

Insanitary conditions growing out of the earthquake calamity in Tokyo have caused an increase of 100 per cent in the typhoid fever prevalence of that city, according to official reports. This fact emphasizes the ever-present vigilance necessary in order to prevent typhoid fever, and ought to be taken to heart by local health officers and the public in Illinois.

When a leper comes to town everybody is scared stiff but nobody seems especially concerned or alarmed because a dozen or so fellow citizens pass out from typhoid fever. Of the two diseases typhoid fever is a whole lot more deadly and more contagious in this country.

It is so easy to prevent typhoid fever nowadays that it's becoming rather a disgrace to have that disease, according to public health authorities.

Folks who have clean habits, and who eat clean food never get typhoid and never give it to anyone else.

Malignant smallpox is reported in Moline and Rock Island county. This malady caused three deaths at that point within the past month. Whole sale vaccination has been in order since the fatal character of the disease became known.

Five years ago Moline experienced a mild outbreak of smallpox. At that time general vaccination was recommended by representatives of the state department of public health who called attention to the possibility of subsequent fatal epidemics. A successful vaccination always protects against smallpox but nothing else does says the state health director.

Contagion is on the run in Illinois. During April of this year 7000 fewer cases of these diseases were reported than for the corresponding month of 1923. Especial decline occurred for pneumonia, influenza, diphtheria, whooping cough and measles. Smallpox, scarlet fever and mumps increased sharply. Other diseases varied but little.

Last year there were 1500 automobile accidents in Sangamon county which resulted in 4 fatalities, a lot of injuries, some of which are permanent and much loss of property. If the same ratio between auto accidents and resultant fatalities holds good for the remainder of the state there were approximately 300,000 automobile accidents in Illinois last year, or an average of nearly 1000 daily. Better tighten down on the speed nerve—it may be your turn next.

Two big industrial concerns in Illinois that require a medical examination of all applicants for employment report that approximately 7 per cent of those who would otherwise be accepted are turned away because they are physically unfit. This shows that health is of a major importance in industry and as a further evidence of the same conviction many of the larger industrial organizations now maintain elaborate medical departments.

Common sense is about the best guide to health and well being if the common sense is activated by a reasonably adequate knowledge of things that influence life. Most folks know, nowadays, for example, that asafetida around the neck or a dish of onions on the mantle has no occult power in preventing diseases and it ought not to take a scientist to inform the same people that wholesome, clean food, fresh air, sunshine and sleep are cardinal factors in promoting and maintaining health.

DUNTILE

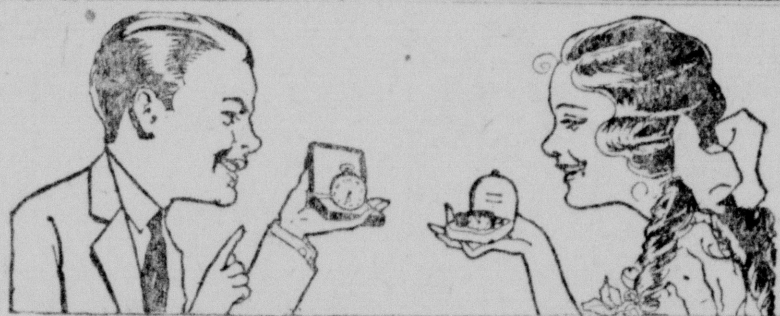

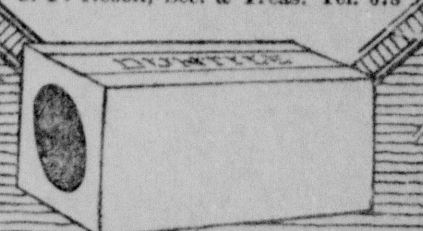

Builds Better Buildings Cheaper

THIS is what we mean by a better building. One that is a better place in which to live or work, one that performs its functions in a more thorough way. It must be a healthful building, free from dampness. A comfortable building, warm in winter and cool in summer. It cannot burn down, neither must it deteriorate with age—it must be permanent. A modern building that stays modern and an attractive building that has its value enhanced by a distinctive beauty.

To build such a building cheaper means that the cost of materials must be less and that the job be done more rapidly with less labor and material. Not only should the first cost be less, but the later expense of repair and upkeep should be eliminated.

Duntile builds such buildings, better and cheaper.

St. Mary's	65½
North Central	52½
South Central	38
E. C. Smith	20

(By Murphy)

The fourth annual grade school track and field meet held under the auspices of the physical department of the Y. M. C. A. at the high school athletic field Saturday morning was the biggest and best ever held both in point of contestants and in interest. St. Mary's was the winner with a total of 65½ points and it was a great victory that they won, with the North Central coming second and contesting every inch of the way. After the first few events the meet developed into a contest between these two schools with St. Mary's finally coming into the lead with 12 points.

Six records were broken. McNicol of the North Central bettering the time in the 50 yard dash and going higher in the pole vault and high jump. "Mac" could have easily gone higher in both the vault and jump but lack of time prevented further trials. Dawson, also of the North Central broke the Junior high jump record, while Hilliker and Joyce, the two St. Mary's stars bettered the mark in the pole vault and running broad jump. Joyce was second with 4 firsts, a second and tying for third in the pole vault for a total of 23½ points. St. Mary's by winning this meet will hold the Trophy Cup given by the H. S. Carpenter Puts K. O. on Sparring Partner

Michigan City, Ind., May 26.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light-heavyweight, and Georges Carpentier, French opponent, went into their final week of training here today, the former to the public and the latter in private workouts, newspaper men only being admitted under the rule of his managers.

Edmund Dickerson, Grand Rapids, Mich. sport writer and baseball promoter, was last night named as referee.

Prospects for a $300,000, gate were forecast today.

Both men are developing speed and punching power, Carpentier having yesterday knocked out Taylor, a negro heavyweight in an exhibition bout during four rounds of training for spectators.

Miller Scored Only Run of Sunday Game

Ward Miller of Dixon, right fielder of the Sterling American Legion team, helped Benton win from the Illinois Giants at Sterling Sunday afternoon, when he got one of two hits the Sterling outfit got off Easley, the colored team's pitcher, and incidentally scored the only run of the game, giving Sterling a 1 to 0 victory. The Dixon player did not have a chance in the field.

SUPREMACY OF N. Y. TEAMS SEEMS NEAR TO BE TERMINATED

Giants Especially Disappointing to Fans of Metropolis.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The aim to end the New York supremacy in major league baseball bore indications of success in the results of the first inter-sectional series which ends today.

The Giants, playing abroad, suffered severely and returned to the east in first place by a scant five points after losing nine of 15 contests. Entertaining the western clubs at home, the world's champions have won five and lost five, with today's game against Detroit as the marginal factor. Boston, winning 15 of its last 19 contests is tied for the American league leadership.

Defective pitching accounted for the failure of the metropolitan teams.

The Tigers yesterday by a score of 6 to 5, took the second consecutive game from the Yankees.

Cubs Keep in Race

Elmer Jacobs held Boston to five hits in the 11 to 6 victory which kept Chicago on the heels of the Giants.

Dutch Reuther pitched one of the best games of his career only to weaken in the 11th inning and permit Pittsburgh to bunch three of its six hits for a 5 to 2 victory. Twenty-eight thousand fans saw the contest. Lee Meadows allowed 13 hits but Brooklyn could not bunt them.

Fielding outweighed pitching in the Brooklyn game. The Pirates, with Wright active, neutralized the Robin's 13 hits off Meadows by three double plays. Loose work by the Brooklyn infield allowed the visitors to score five runs on six hits off Reuther.

Giants Trim Reds

Eppa Rixey held the Giants to three hits in seven innings and was taken out for a pinch hitter. Harris, who succeeded him, was hit solidly in the ninth for four runs and a 6 to 1 New York victory, the third in four days over the Reds.

Dyer held the Phillies to eight hits, drove in the tying run with a triple and with the bases crowded and two out in the 10th, won a 5 to 4 victory for St. Louis by singling. The White Sox outslugged Washington and won 10 to 9 after each team used three pitchers.

Ty Cobb counted his first homer of the season.

Ray Schaak caught his 1500th game in the American League, a record by many score contests.

Presbyterians Have Softball Aggregation

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society now has a soft ball baseball team. This team was very recently organized with the following officers: Roderick Ware, captain; E. L. Kuhn, manager; and will take on any team from any other C. E. Epworth League, Young People's Society, Church, Sunday School, or what have you, ages from 15 to 50. Any team or teams wishing to take on the Presbyterians can secure dates through the manager.

Gives Golfers Chance to Aid Disabled Vets

Inspired by the appeal of the Linotype in the Chicago Tribune, to golfers to donate their old clubs, golf bags and golf balls to the disabled ex-service men at the Great Lakes and Speedway hospitals, Tim Sullivan of Dixon, Country club has issued a similar appeal to Dixon golfers. He announces that any clubs, balls and bags left at the Telegraph office or at the Pro-Shop at the Dixon Country club before Thursday will receive his personal attention and he will take them to the respective hospitals.

Gasoline By the Pound

In order that the general public may visualize gasoline prices in true perspective, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is endeavoring, in its advertising, to draw just comparisons with other staple and essential products.

At today's prices, if gasoline were sold by the pound, the price at service stations would be about 3½¢ per pound.

Compare this with sugar at 10¢ a pound; bread or milk at 8¢ per pound; butter at 45¢ and cheese at 60¢ per pound, and it is apparent at once that gasoline prices are low—especially so when the service rendered by gasoline is considered.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) states, that with few exceptions, no other manufactured necessity is sold at as low a price as gasoline.

This low price is maintained despite the hazards attending the production of gasoline, and the vast amount of capital required to provide distribution facilities adequate to supply you with gasoline, when and where you want it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), through intensified organization and unceasing initiative, has been a potent factor in the maintenance of low gasoline prices.

This Company endeavors to symbolize that American spirit of dynamic leadership, which combines business initiative with scientific skill for service to the thirty million people of the Middle West. This comprehensive service enables the man in modest circumstances to operate his automobile at a fuel cost which he easily can afford.

To keep pace with the growing demand for telephone service.

Because poles rot, the lead armor on cables crystallizes, the wires which support the cable rusts, and all parts of a telephone system gradually disintegrate. We must occasionally rebuild our system, each time striving to make it better than before and longer lived.

This we are now engaged in doing and in four or five years we hope to have an entirely new system, which because of its being underground, will not be subject to as many interruptions of service as we have had in the past.
